

Online Graduate Degree Information Webinar for August 18 Start Dates - The USC College of Education has a very important FALL 2016 start date upcoming for the online graduate degree programs which have been designed for our South Carolina certified teachers. These 100% online graduate degree programs provide higher education opportunities for South Carolina teachers at reduced tuition rates.

We will be conducting a voluntary information session/webinar for interested teachers in the district who would like more information regarding the program details, enrollment requirements, start dates, and loan forgiveness options. We will also be discussing important details regarding the changes within the field of education and the loan forgiveness programs which are available for our South Carolina educators.

You are invited to register for a live presentation regarding USC's Regionally Accredited 100% Online Graduate Degree Programs:

- M.Ed. in Teaching
- M.Ed. in Educational Administration
- Ed.D. in Curriculum & Instruction
- Ed.D. in C&I – Educational Technology

Benefit from your teaching experience....

Several Loan Forgiveness Programs will be discussed which might help with funding your education.

- Stafford Teacher Loan Forgiveness Program offers $5,000 to $17,500 in loan forgiveness - As a teacher of Mathematics or Science in a secondary school or Special Education in PK-12, you may be eligible for up to $17,500 in loan forgiveness for continuing education.
