

Center of Excellence for Mobile Learning (CML) 2017-18 Registration Information

Who: Any k-12 teachers who would like to increase their use of technologies in ways that lead to improved student learning

What: Yearlong institute includes opportunities to participate in classroom-based research, attend and present at selected technology conferences, become an active contributor to the CML website, and engage with education and technology faculty and peers through online and seated professional meetings.

When: 8:30 am-11:00 am on Saturday October 21
4:30 pm-6:30 pm on Wednesday November 15
9:00 am-1:00 pm on Saturday February 10
4:30 pm-6:30 pm on Wednesday April 11

Where: Johnston Hall's CML Classroom, Anderson University

Why: To engage with education and technology faculty and peers to learn and implement effective strategies for using technologies to improve student performance.

Additional Incentive: Each participant will be paid a stipend ($1000) and a yearlong membership to ISTE (International Society for Technology in Education)

If interested please contact Dr. Joanna Stegall (jstegall@andersonuniversity.edu)